A PARTISAN CONVENTION.

The Constitutional Convention organized at Albany sesteroay by the election of a complete list of Republican officers from President down to page boy, as agreed upon previously in a party caucus.

The bemocratic members met prior to the assembling of the Convention to protest against the prostitution of such a body to partisan purposes and to condemn the early establishment of caucus rule to force the members into the such port of party propositions and to deprive them of their individual judgment and honest conscience.

Partisanship is out of place in a Constitutional Convention whose members are intrusted with the high duty of familing the fugdamental laws on which all the statutes of the State are founded. It is not a prombling sign when such body begins its labors with an evident all the statutes of the State are founded it is added that Gilroy was ingent of the convention to seize greedily on all the statutes of the State are founded it is existed the individual purpose and not by the public good. Nordica's Chaise-Longue.

Mme. Nordica has among other treas ures in her London drawing-room, pure French chaise-longue. It came ou of one of the Queen's castles, and is a gift of Princess Beatrice. If our Lillian ever gets hard pushed for spot cash, a she has to do is to cart it along Fourt avenue, where the antique dealers will give her anywhere from $7.25 to $725 to A chaise-longue on which royalt has measured its length, to say nothing is not to be sneezed at or no noozed on, like the plain carpet-covere

An Iron Age in Decoration.

Iron is now considered more aesthetior lamp stands, candlesticks and tea kettle standards than brass. It vrought into all sorts of arabesque de signs and is something of a relief after the hammered brass period, when houses especially where there were daughters glittered with brass plaques and orna ments of every kind that could be ham mered out by their hands.

Very Odd. Funny little housewives are fashioned out of a bit of gingham and flannel.

round piece of cardboard is covered with the gingham to serve as a base, and the at the top. An apron of cardboard t covered with the gingham, edged with pins, and fitted closely over the head while a thimble set on top gives the emblance of a bell crown. A fichu c the gingham is crossed over the stic shoulders and across the back is far ened an Ivory crochet hook, from eithe end of which are suspended tape needle stuck through and upholding two speed of white cotton. Two small whittle sticks come out from under the fichu fe arms, and the whole effect is ridiculous

Henry George and Single Tax To the Editor:

the Pope in best answered by Mr. George hims in his book. "The Condition of Labor," pages and 40. The Pope says that industry expended land gives ownership in the land itself, and I ship of the land, and that the improvement of land creates benefit indistinguishable and separable from the land itself. This contents if valid, could only tubtify the ownership of h by those who expend industry on it. It will justify private property in land as it exist

WILLIAM JEFFREY, South Elizabeth, N. The Story of Sunday.

To the Editor: In answer to "Willing to Learn," I would that we do not "keep Sabbath on Sunday." Sepeople keep Sunday on Sunday. The Sabt was done away with in Christ's time, and 321 years there was no especial day for Christ in the Church flagging, they induced the Emp Constantine to issue an edict as follows: " all judges and all people of the to and all the various trades be pend on the venerable day of the These who live in the country, however, freely, and without fault, attend to the cult tion of the fields, lest with the loss of favor opportunity the commodities offered by Di-Providence should be destroyed." The Christ wilfully and habitually disobey what they sa one of the ten commands of their God, and v to force every one else to obey the order of Roman murderer. EUGENE V. C. MYERS, Germantown, N. Two-Story Cars in Russia. To the Editor:

Being a constant reader of "The Evening Wo could not avoid reading in the correspond about Europe two-story railroad cars. I Russia. In the city of Moscow, among t two-story lines, you can find the "Tagauca" which goes up a steep hill, has several ci and moves with considerable speed. I never heard of an accident on this line. C.
